How it works

Prepare

Review asset and liability position, trading operations, and tax obligations. Advise on steps to clean up before commencing.

Resolve & Appoint

Directors execute the declaration of solvency. Members pass resolutions to wind up and appoint a liquidator. ASIC lodgements and creditor notices coordinated.

Clear & Distribute

Liaise with the ATO for tax clearance, lodge any outstanding returns. Distribute surplus assets to creditors and shareholders.

Finalise & Deregister

Liquidation completed and company struck off the ASIC register.

Solvent Liquidations.

A cost-effective, legally certain process for winding up a solvent company - preserving tax benefits, resolving creditor claims, and simplifying your corporate structure.

The formal process

A SL is the structured way to wind up a solvent company. After paying creditors, surplus funds or assets are distributed to shareholders and the company is deregistered by ASIC.

When it's appropriate

Restructuring a corporate group, ceasing a profitable business, or disposing of a special purpose vehicle or dormant company that is no longer required.

Key Benefits

Tax concessions preserved - profits, capital reserves, and pre-CGT assets distributed with full CGT character retained.

Resolve creditor claims, including contingent or disputed ones, with a clear statutory process.

Distribute assets — not just funds — to shareholders as part of the wind-down.

Allow earlier destruction of books and records than a simple deregistration permits.

Reduce corporate governance risk and ongoing compliance burden from dormant entities.
